Stella Maris College (Autonomous)

Chennai, Tamil Nadu, India

9.40am	3.10pm	Introduction Dr. Lakshmi Priya Daniel (IQAC Coordinator, Stella Maris)
		Tharagai (opening) A play written by Stellaeidoscope Club The Tamil word 'Tharagai' literally translates to 'stars'. Our protagonist Tara is an everyday Indian girl from the southern state of Tamil Nadu, facing a crossroads in her life as she finds herself confronted with norms that have been imposed on generations of Indian women. As she questions these norms, we begin to view the subtle oppressions of systemized patriarchy, and most importantly, the beginnings of resistance and change. So, follow us as we ask, what does it mean to empower a girl? What does it mean to tell her to reach for the stars?
		Four South Indian female icons: Rukmini Devi Arundale, Muthulakshmi Reddy, Sugathakumari & Rajeshwari Chatterjee By Classical Dance Club & Folk-dance Club
		Tharagai (closing) By Dramatics Club, Classical Dance Club & Folk-dance Club
