

Chinese In-Country Intensive Study Program

Fudan University, Shanghai, China

25 Nov 2024 – 20 Dec 2024

What is the Fudan University Chinese In-Country Intensive Study Program?

This is an intensive Chinese language program in China. Classes will be conducted in the mornings from Monday to Friday. On weekends, there will be excursions to places of interest in the surrounding area. In addition, students will have the opportunity to engage in activities such as calligraphy and Tai Chi.

This Program is being organised and run by the Chinese Section of the Asia Institute together with the Department of Chinese Language and Literature at Fudan University. A member of the staff of the Chinese Section will accompany the students to Shanghai and remain at Fudan University for the 10 days of the subject.

Where is it?

Fudan University is one of China's most prestigious universities with years of experience teaching Chinese as a second language. It is situated in Shanghai. Travel arrangements will be explained in further detail at the briefing sessions.

Fudan University website: www.fudan.edu.cn

When will it be?

The program will be over the summer break. The timing of the program depends on the date of the Chinese New Year, as such, the dates will vary from year to year.

2024 dates: 25 Nov 2024 to 20 Dec 2024

Who can participate?

This program is open to all University of Melbourne undergraduate and postgraduate students.

Please note: under Fudan University's instruction, this program is designed for second language learners only and native Chinese speakers are not eligible for it.

Those who would like to receive credit towards their University of Melbourne degree or diploma for this study must meet the minimum University requirements for Study Abroad:

<https://students.unimelb.edu.au/your-course/study-overseas/explore-study-programs/short-term-programs/eligibility>

They must also meet the Chinese Section-specific requirements:

- As a minimum, students are required to have completed at least 2 semesters of Chinese language study at the University of Melbourne prior to this program's commencement. Students who have learned Chinese at an institution elsewhere should contact A/Professor Shaoming Zhou in the Asia Institute (shaoming@unimelb.edu.au) to determine their eligibility.

For those who would like to take the Program for their own interest and not seek credit, they do not have to meet the requirements above. They must, however, contact A/Professor Shaoming Zhou and make that clear as a slightly different application process will be required.

How many can participate?

For the Program to go ahead there must be a minimum of 16 students. If this number is not reached the Program will be cancelled. The maximum number of students who can participate in 2024 is 32. Where more students apply than there are places available, preference will be given to second and third year students.

How do I enrol in Study Abroad and receive credit for my degree/diploma at Melbourne?

The Study Abroad site provides an overview of Study Abroad planning:

<https://students.unimelb.edu.au/study-overseas/explore-study-programs/short-term-programs> (don't apply for enrolment until informed)

In the case of the Fudan University Chinese In-Country Intensive Study Program, students follow the steps below:

1. Email your expression of interest to A/Professor Zhou at shaoming@unimelb.edu.au by Friday 28 June 2024
The following information should all be included in your email:
 - name
 - student number
 - most recent Chinese language subject undertaken at this University
 - degree and diploma (if relevant)
 - University of Melbourne email address
 - Contactable phone number
2. Attend an initial briefing session held by Asia Institute on Friday, 26 July 2024
3. Pay a non-refundable deposit of $300 by Friday 30 August, 2024 (later payment will not be accepted)
4. Submit your application online by Sunday 8 September through the Fudan brochure page at <https://studyos.students.unimelb.edu.au/index.cfm?FuseAction=Programs.ViewProgramAngular&id=10360> (don't apply until informed) (link needs update)
Please upload the receipt for your payment of your deposit in the essay question. Later submission is not accepted
5. Submit a study plan online by Sunday 8 September through the Study Planner, the link for which is in the application form.*
6. When you have been approved to participate, you submit an application form on line to Fudan University.
7. Once you receive your acceptance from Fudan University you must provide that to Stop 1 Global Learning so that they can update your enrolment.
8. Prepare for departure.
9. Attend subject, including sitting all assessment.
10. Receive academic transcript and submit to Stop 1 so that, assuming you are successful, your credit can be transferred to your degree/diploma at Melbourne^.

* Final study plan approval is at the discretion of the Stop 1.

^ Credit is ungraded.

Will I require a passport and visa?

All students must have a current passport which is valid for at least six months beyond the date when they expect to leave China. Students who do not have a passport or do not have the required six months validity must immediately apply for a new passport. Your passport will be required by the consulate for your visa and the airline for your ticket. Students who hold more than one passport must use the same passport for the airline ticket as they will use to enter China.

All students will require a visa. You will be told when you should apply but it will be towards the end of the year. Failure to obtain a visa will mean that you will not be able to go to China.

What is the cost?

In 2024 the cost is $1950. This includes:

- Student ID card
- Tuition
- Text books and other teaching materials
- Group transfer to and from the airport in Shanghai (if student is not arriving / departing with the group, airport transfer costs are NOT Refundable)
- calligraphy and Tai Chi activities
- Weekend activities (Shanghai city tour, Zhujiatao Town and Suzhou City)

Payment

- A non-refundable deposit of $300 is required by Friday, 30 Aug, 2024
- Payment of the balance of $1,650 is required by Friday, 25 October, 2024

Proof of payment for both the deposit and balance must be emailed to A/Professor Zhou by the due dates.

Late payment is not accepted and will result in cancellation of your registration for this program.

How do I pay?

Payment can be made by credit card (Visa and Master card only) by using the online facility at:

TBD

Students are responsible for the cost of flights, meals, accommodation (at around $30/night for a room at a nearby international student accommodation, subject to exchange rate) and for any personal expenditure. Students are also responsible for the cost of obtaining a Chinese visa (visa application instructions will be provided).

Important notes:

Students will be advised of group travel arrangements in the briefing sessions. Students who would not join group travel can organise their own travel plan.

This is a study abroad program at Fudan University, not part of the University of Melbourne exchange program with Fudan University. Payment is made through the University of Melbourne and transferred to Fudan University. More information here:

<http://www.mobility.unimelb.edu.au/outbound/study-abroad/>

Travel Insurance

Travel insurance is compulsory and can be obtained through the University free of charge for students receiving credit for this program. You are required to provide proof of insurance cover (either University of Melbourne or some alternative) to A/Professor Zhou.

<https://students.unimelb.edu.au/your-course/study-overseas/step-by-step-guides/short-term-programs/get-accepted-by-your-host>

Scholarships

If you are currently studying a modern language at the University of Melbourne, you may apply for the Melbourne Global Mobility Scholarship for Language Study. Funding is also available from various sources including faculties and the Australian government. For a detailed explanation of the various scholarships available to Study Abroad students, please see the Study Abroad funding webpage:

<http://mobility.unimelb.edu.au/outbound/funding/study-abroad-funding.html>

What if I need to withdraw?

Students who need to withdraw must do so in writing.

The deposit payment of $300 is NOT refundable*.

With regard to the program fee, for students who withdraw after:

- 15 October, 2024 the cancellation fee of 75% of the full program fee applies.
- 1 December, 2024 the cancellation fee of 100% of the full program fee applies.

* There may be circumstances in which the deposit is fully or partially refunded at the School's discretion e.g. if a student does not receive the required Faculty approval or if a student's visa application is unsuccessful.

Airlines may levy their own cancellation fees.

When do I have to apply?

Students must express their interest to A/Professor Zhou by the due date and attend one of the initial briefing sessions in June.

Applications will be due online by midnight on Sunday 8 September 2024.

Please do not send enquiries to A/Professor Zhou before you attend the initial briefing session.

A/Professor Shaoming Zhou

shaoming@unimelb.edu.au

www.asiainstitute.unimelb.edu.au